

Introduction

The farmer's problem

A farmer has available 500 acres of land available for raising wheat, corn, and sugar beets.

He needs at least 200 tons of wheat and 240 tons of corn for cattle feed;

Cattle feed amounts can be raised on the farm or bought from a wholesale market;

Sugar beet is raised for profit only. However, production above a 6000 ton quota has a lower sales price.